SBR Spotlight

RE Notes

Jeff Luckritz

Thanks for '08

South Bend Region is the best region in SCCA. I'm not sure how many times I've told people this, but I believe it's true. Even though not every SBR member has the exact same interest in motorsports, we work together to get things done.

For 2008, SBR was in the black financially in every aspect of participation. Solo, Race and Street Survival were all a financial success. We were able to do this and still provide a product that people wanted and enjoyed. Perhaps just as important is the fact that the leaders of our club manage to get along with each other and have fun too.

Are we perfect? Of course not, and we're always looking to improve every Solo, Race and Street Survival we sanction. Listen in on any SBR board meeting and you will find that we are constantly talking about ways to improve our product. About the only thing we do exactly the same is the Annual Banquet. Ask Rod Markowicz.

This years South Bend Region Annual Banquet will be held at the Studebaker National Museum (again). The food will be the same as last year (again), but not re-heated stuff from 2008, freshly cooked stuff. Several small changes to the banquet include a slightly earlier date, (January 10th), a different guest speaker (Lee Niffenegger), and a half hour earlier social time (5:30 pm instead of 6:00 pm). Hmm. Come to think of it, the banquet isn't the exact same as last year; we've improved that too.

For 2009, we've combined forces with Western Michigan Region to sanction national races on July 11-12th at GingerMan and August 8-9th at Grattan. Our Solo Chair, Mark Manninen has been busy finalizing an '09 Solo Schedule, and Adam Lewis has been thinking about the two Street Survival events we'll be holding in April and August.

Enjoy your Christmas holiday and thanks for a great 2008. I hope to see you all at the SBR Annual Banquet on January 10th.

The Thews Special

Lloyd Loring

If you are in a Barnes & Noble, or Borders, or other store with a good collection of magazines, look for the November, 2008 issue of Excellence, The Magazine About Porsche. You will find, beginning on page 116, a 7 page article on the unusual car Curt Thews built in his VW dealership out on Western Avenue back in 1963. Using a DKW Junior frame and a Centaur fiberglass body from Detroit, Curt and friends built an H Modified 2 cylinder Porsche race car that also ran in F Modified with a 4 cylinder Porsche engine. The details are fascinating and spelled out in the article. Dick Wisler, Wayne Wiley and Walt Crowel were some of the drivers of the TM Special.

If you can't find a copy of the magazine I can send you a PDF scan of it. Just ask. It's a big file (3.7 MB!) but worth it. Or go to the magazine website and order a copy for $10.

As some of you know, my wife Kathy and I are on an expatriate assignment to Japan. The company that I work for, Bosch, sponsors a car in the Japan Super GT race series. For the season ending race at Fuji Speedway, Bosch organized a block of seats for employees to purchase. Kathy and I attended the race, and we had a good time, despite the rainy conditions.

GingerMan Raceway plans changes for 2009

Duane Belisle

As you may have heard, GingerMan Raceway is planning track layout/configuration changes for 2009. The picture below shows a sketch of the addition and changes. It is planned for the update to be completed in time for the 2009 race season. Ground has already been broken for the extension at turn 10.

The changes will allow the track to be run in either direction. The original track configuration will always be available. Race sanctioning bodies renting the track will be able to choose a track configuration and direction.

Kathy and I were interviewed for a part of an article for the Japanese magazine “Auto Sport”. The picture shown here is from the article. If you are interested, the caption for Jeff says “I’m the driver” and Kathy is saying “I’m the sponsor and crew”. Underneath the picture, it mentions that I drive Formula Vee, and that Kathy is part of my crew. It also mentions how excited we are to be at the race. You can also see what loyal employees we are, as we are proudly displaying our Bosch towels!
